DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, and 3-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-35 of U.S. Patent No. 6,589,891. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1, and 3-8 recite the same limitations as Patent No. 6,589,891, virtually verbatim. The only differences occur in the preamble of claim 1, where it recites "An abrasion resistant material for use in protective clothing..." rather than "A garment material for use within abrasion resistant clothing..." (as recited in Patent No. 6,589,891); and in instant claim 5 where the only difference from claim 1 of Patent No. 6,589,891 is the addition of the limitation that the "two dimensional pattern" is "fixed".

In both cases the changes to the claims add no structural or functional limitations to the previously allowed patent. With respect to the "fixed" limitation the examiner's position is that the previously allowed patent is inherently "fixed" or in the very least it would have been an obvious variant to the previously allowed patent, as the limitation "fixed" is very broad and not given any special definition by the specification.

Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the previous patent No. 6,589,891 from a garment material for abrasion resistant clothing to an abrasion resistant material for use in protective clothing; as well as to modify the two dimensional pattern of the previous patent to a "fixed" two dimensional pattern, as recited by the instant application.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. References have been cited that teach abrasion resistant materials.
